Alumni Spotlight

Jason A. Hartman '84 has been named Managing Partner at Brown Edwards. Upon joining the firm in 1986, Jason developed their Local Government Practice and an exceptional Local Government Team. Additionally, he was responsible for building and leading the firm's Credit Union Practice, which expanded under his leadership to include clients throughout the region. Jason has been integral in the development of the firm over the years, serving as a long-term member of the Executive Committee as well as managing the Roanoke, Virginia office since 2008. In addition, he was instrumental in the firm joining the BDO Alliance USA, giving Brown Edwards and its client's access to the resources of BDO USA, LLP and the global BDO network, the fifth largest accounting and consulting network in the world.

One of Jason's main objectives is to continue the firm's growth trends through both organic and selective acquisition strategies. "As we have grown, clients from outside our office locations have recognized the quality delivered by Brown Edwards and have sought us out," he says. "It is desirable from a client service and community involvement perspective that we have offices in those locations to better serve our clients."

Brown Edwards is a full-service firm with nine locations in Virginia, West Virginia, and Tennessee and is also an independent member of the BDO Alliance USA. The firm, also celebrating its 50th year in public accounting, was recognized among the group of the nation's top 100 firms by the industry's leading trade newsletter, Inside Public Accounting (9/2016) and was also recognized by Accounting Today's 2017 Regional Leaders as the sixth leading accounting firm in the Capital Region (DE, MD, VA, DC, and WV).

Jason will lead one of the fastest growing firms in the
